

ERIC

Coverage: ERIC covers the field of education including periodical literature from 1969 to the present, as well as papers, curriculum materials, evaluation studies, handbooks, speeches, some books, dissertations, and various other formats from 1966 to the present. You may obtain citations and view abstracts from ERIC, but there is no full-text. You may, however, use the SFX technology to find the full-text in another database.

To Access: Select ERIC from the list of databases on the 1st floor Reference terminals. From off-campus, you will must enter your Coyote ID number. URL: <http://www.lib.csusb.edu>

To Search:

- Type your search terms in using an AND between words, unless it is a phrase such as special education.
- Use truncation (*) to retrieve reading, readers, etc. (example below).

kindergarten and read* and phonics

- Another example using OR is below.

phonics and whole language and (effect* or compar*)

You may view all the results or click on one of the tabs to view the citations of a particular kind of document, such as articles from peer-reviewed journals, books, reports, dissertations, or proceedings at conferences.

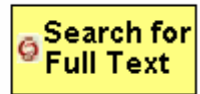

To View Results:

- Scroll down to view your results.
- Mark records by putting a checkmark in the box next to the record number. Marked records can be easily printed, downloaded, or emailed later. Only the citation and abstract will be printed, emailed, or saved in ERIC.

- To see the abstract or summary of the article, click “View Record.”

View Record | Full-text Linking |

Notice if the AN (accession number) starts with ED or EJ. ED means that the item is NOT an article from a periodical, but an Eric document. Eric documents can be a presentation at a conference, a dissertation, a government report, or some other non-article item. EJ is used for articles in trade or scholarly periodicals.

Accession Number ED458540

To Find the Items:

- If the item is an article, clicking on the yellow SFX or Search for Full Text icon (shown above) may help you find it in full-text in a different database. For more information on this service, see the handout “Search for Full Text -- SFX.”
- Some Eric documents (ED) will have the “Full-Text Linking” link to get EDs in full-text. If an ED does not have a full-text link, write down the ED number (for example, ED467513) and consult a librarian to find the ED in microfiche in the library.

To Print/Email/Save:

- Mark the desired records and click the “Save, Print, Email” link at the top of the results screen.
- You may use this same feature to create a bibliography in APA format and save it as text, MS Word, and other formats.

If you have any questions, please consult a reference librarian or call 537-5091